Nursing Peer Review in a Just Culture

The presentation will define just culture and show how the TriHealth Nursing team uses this principle in our practice review. It will discuss two types of peer review to include periodic performance review and peer review when a safety event occurs. The Performance Management Decision Guide will be discussed and broken down into the four pathways to determine appropriate management and follow up after an incident. Examples of case reviews will be presented to the participants and discussion will follow.

Learning Objectives:

- Participants will understand the difference between human/individual errors versus system failures during a safety incident.
- Attendees will understand the use of the Performance Management Decision Guide algorithm used during peer review.
